UPDATED: 07/29/2020

In 2018, Antaira was forced to announce the EOL process for the 10G switches due to an old chipset. Today, Antaira now has an equivalent replacement for most of the products along with new 10G switches. Please note that the previous EOL products have been replaced by a new version but have the same part number. The replacement and new 10G switches have a newer chipset and are all UL certified.
